THE RISEN CHRIST

In this Sunday's first reading and Gospel we see Peter and the other disciples in action after the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. On trial, they refused to stop teaching in Jesus' name, and they rejoiced at the opportunity to suffer for their beliefs. On the lake and its shore, face to face with the Risen Lord, they obeyed his directions and recognized him as he once again ate a meal with them. There are so many human and almost homey touches in these readings! The high priest in the first scene sounds as if he is scolding naughty students. There is an order to stop speaking in Jesus' name, but it is evident everyone knows they will disobey again. And on the lake shore, we can imagine Peter's excitement as he strides out of the water and is greeted by Jesus, who grins and says, "Come, have breakfast."

The second reading, on the other hand, is anything but homey. In this passage from Revelation, John describes a scene in which the same Lord who fed his friends breakfast here receives honor and glory from everything in the universe.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — God exalted Jesus as leader and savior (Acts 5:27-32, 40b-41).

Gospel — When the disciples came ashore, they saw a charcoal fire with fish on it and bread (John 21:1-19 [1-14]).

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

An ancient title for this Sunday is Dominica in Albis, or "Sunday in White." During the Easter Vigil, the newly baptized are invested with a white garment, a sign that they have put on Christ. At one time, the garments were worn for a full week of celebration and reflection, and on this Sunday the newly baptized would appear in their robes again in their new place among the faithful for Eucharist.

In later centuries, the energy of new life at Easter was largely forgotten, and this Sunday was renamed "Quasimodo Sunday," or "Low Sunday." In recent years, with the recovery of the insight that Easter is the privileged time for celebrating and renewing baptism, there is nothing "Low" about this Sunday. At a week's distance, the beauty and grace of our Easter celebration is sustained by joyful alleluias, the blessing and sprinkling of holy water, and the comfort of the Lord's presence to us. He is risen, and he summons us together, opening up the scriptures for us, breaking the bread, filling us with new life.

Envelopes and Children

All children should have outlets in which to express themselves but we ask that the offertory envelopes that are found in the pews in church not be one of them. Perhaps a piece of paper from mom or dad's pocket or purse could be used instead. We ask this because of the cost and the time it takes to run these envelopes. These envelopes are printed and put out in the church for the use of donations. Thank you very much.

Religious Education &

News with Sunday Friends

If you are a student and in need of service hours and would like to join the SFF (Sunday Friends Foundation) you'll need to go on line to: www.sundayfriends.org and watch a brief instruction video, then call 408-217-9587. You will be glad you did!

Recently we received a thank you letter from the folks at Sunday Friends Foundation in San Jose. If you are not familiar with SFF, they are the "the working alternative to charity. The teens helped collect and sort books that were then stored until there was room to donate the books to the children who attend on two Sundays a month. The letter read: "Thank you so much for your contribution of so many boxes of books! Our families love reading books together, especially since we have started doing family time at Sunday Friends. During family time, parents and their children come together to read and play board games together. It is the perfect opportunity for our families to grow closer together and for them to learn!"

The books that you donated will pair nicely along with our family time, and we will also get to add some of the books to our Treasure Chests! Our families will be so grateful to be able to earn some new books. By earning books, they will be able to have family time at home too, not just at the programs. Thank you so much for all of your support, we truly appreciate it!"

Best Regards, Caitlyn with Sunday Friends
